

Gammon Theological Seminary

CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF RELIGION AND RACE

Presents its Inaugural Lecture by

Dr. Francoise N. Hamlin

Hans Rothfels Professor of History and Africana Studies

Brown University

Françoise N. Hamlin (Ph.D. Yale University, 2004) is the Hans Rothfels Professor of History and Africana Studies at Brown University, and teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in twentieth century African American history, African American Women's history, southern history, U.S. history and cultural studies. Her current research includes work on the black freedom struggle in Mississippi with critical analysis on the trajectory of the movement, the role of gender, and concepts of success and progress. She is also co-editing a volume about African American responses to war and patriotism.

Wednesday, February 1, 2012

7:00 P.M.

Cascade United Methodist Church
3144 Cascade Road, SW, Atlanta, GA

Reception to follow